Toronto, June 2023 - “The Charming Taste of Europe” is pleased to announce that for the second year it will host an exclusive press trip to discover the delicious cherries from Rachi Pieria and kiwis from Kavala in Greece in late May. The selected Canadian media will fly to Thessaloniki on June 11th for a 6-day trip organized by The Agricultural Cooperative of Rachi Pierias, “AGIOS LOUKAS” and KAVALA COOP.

Throughout Greece the production of cherries has risen rapidly as they are ranked 10th in the world with most production coming out of Northern Greece, in particular from the regions of Pella, Imathia and Rachi Pieria. With 250 members, The Agricultural Cooperative of Rachi Pierias, “AGIOS LOUKAS”, founded in 1978 has expanded its cherry grove to 200 hectares. Throughout the trip, participants will speak with the producers where they will discover more about the cherries, the market and the complex production methods. In addition, the respective media will also get an opportunity to visit the cherry fields.

Originating from China and arriving in Europe in the late 19th century, the Kiwi began to cultivate itself in Greece in the early 1980s. Throughout the last 20 years, production has expanded and the Kiwi has become a national product in Greece, specifically in Kavala on the Northern coast. The production of Kiwi in Kavala is approximately 50,000 tons, 10,000 of which are produced by KAVALA COOP. During the trip the media participants will visit the “Kavala COOP” Cooperative where they will see the kiwi fields and facilities as well as speak with the producing organization.

The Charming Taste of Europe aims to educate participants on some of the most exquisite products from Europe by providing hands-on experiences in the respective countries of origin.
